Installation of legal help desks under the Nalsa ASHA Scheme at legal aid clinics within Lunglei District, facilitated by dlsa Lunglei.

Under the initiatives of the NALSA ASHA Scheme, Legal Help Desks have been established in every Legal Aid Clinic across Lunglei and Hnahthial Districts. These Help Desks, facilitated by the District Legal Services Authority (DLSA) Lunglei, are staffed by Para Legal Volunteers who provide legal awareness, support, and assistance to the community.

The Scheme focuses on awareness, support, help, and action ensuring that communities are informed of their rights, victims receive timely assistance, and collective efforts are taken against harmful practices such as child marriage.

Each Legal Aid Clinic is manned by Para Legal Volunteers (PLVs), who work tirelessly to spread legal awareness, extend support to vulnerable groups, and take proactive steps towards eliminating child marriage. This initiative embodies NALSA's commitment to fostering legal literacy and community empowerment, while ensuring that justice is delivered at the grassroots level.
